Board Makes By-Pass Choice

Eagles Seek Second Win In Pampa Clash Friday

Riding the crest of a 16-12 victory over the Lubbock Westerners, Canyon's Eagles will invade the homeland of the Pampa Harvesters Friday night.

Game time will be 7:30 o'clock in Pampa.

The Harvesters run the Wishbone T, same as the formation used by the Eagles.

Most potent runner for the Harvesters is John McCarroll. Craig Wilson averages punting 45 yards from the line of scrimmage and this can give any opponent a potent advantage.

Dale Ammonds, the Harvester quarterback, likes to pass and he is a strong runner. He weighs 190 pounds and is 6 foot, 1.

"He is a good quarterback," Eagle Coach Dunny Goode summed it up.

The Harvesters have lost this year only to the powerful Lawton, Okla., Wolverines and then the margin was only 14-9. They nudged Hereford by 2 points and blanked both Odessa High and Perryton.

"Our scouts say they are about the same as Lubbock and Caprock offensively and defensively," said Coach Goode.

The Eagle coach said he told his charges before the Westerner game that they could win if they didn't fumble, permit an interception or allow a kick to be blocked.

"And they saw it come true," he said, declaring that Canyon's losses this year have been the results of mistakes.

He said he thinks his team will have a good chance with Pampa Friday night if the Eagles don't commit any

Rotary Governor To Visit Monday

W. W. Pyeatt, Rotary Governor of District 573, will make his official visit here Monday and Tuesday.

Pyeatt and his wife will be honored Monday at a 7:00 p.m. salad supper held at the Canyon Community Center for Rotarians and their Rotary Anns. The supper will be followed by a Rotary Club assembly with the Rotary Anns adjourning to the H. R. Fulton home for an informal social hour.

On Tuesday, Pyeatt will deliver the "Governor's Message to the Club" at the noon luncheon.

During his official visit the Rotary Governor will review the Canyon Rotaries planned activities for the coming year with Rotary Club President, H. R. Fulton. He will then make suggestions for club improvement, where warranted.

The Rotary Governor has been a member of the Sweetwater Rotary Club since December, 1955; has served on numerous committees in his home club; served as president in 1964-65, vice president in 1965-66; and Chairman in 1967-68 of District Committee on Group Study Exchange.

Pick Route Just East City Limits

Canyon planning and zoning commission Monday night recommended that a route designated as Route B be selected for the I-27 bypass.

This route runs along McSpadden Road just east of the city about 2 miles east of the present route of US 287.

This is the same route that has been recommended to the city commission by City Planner Marvin Springer of Dallas.

Move to recommend Route B was made by Jack Haley and seconded by Bill Sternenberg. It received the commission's unanimous approval.

The board in its resolution said the route was chosen because of the effect the routing would have on the city of Canyon.

It said it would best serve the city's economic interests and be of the optimum convenience to the Canyon people.

The resolution said this routing would also enhance the city's ability to extend its control over environmental situations adjacent to the city.

"It is the unanimous feeling of the city of Canyon's Planning and Zoning Commission that the one known as Route B is viewed as definitely being in the best interest of the city of Canyon."

The recommendation noted that alhough the exact location is not known, that the recommendation was made with the understanding that the route follow approximately the course as shown on the charts supplied the commission.

In its final meeting in September, Randall County commissioners court endorsed a by-pass route which would leave the Canyon Express-way in the neighborhood of Stuckey's to the north and angle to a South Washington junction about 3 miles south of the Washington-Palo Duro Road intersection.

From this junction Washington would become I-27 to Happy.

The Canyon city commission has discussed the matter but has not yet made a choice.

Narcotics Conviction Gets Man Prison Term

A 22-year-old Amarillo was sentenced to 16 years in the state penitentiary Monday in 47th District Court after being found guilty of one count of sale of marijuana.

Judge E.E. "Gene" Jordan set the penalty for Gary Wayne Morris of 89 Virginia, after a Randall County jury deliberated only 21 minutes in finding the defendant guilty of the charge.

Judge Jordan rejected a defense application for probation, stating "probation is certainly not indicated under the circumstances."

"It seems to me he (Morris) is the type person who has extreme difficulties in staying out of trouble," Judge Jordan said.

After the jury had found the defendant guilty and withdrawn from the court room, Dist. Atty. George Dowlen introduced into the court record the previous convictions Morris has received.

The defendant had been given a three-year probated sentence in 1965, also in 47th District Court, for the offense of forgery and passing. He served one year of the sentence before being released.

Dowlen also determined that Morris had been sentenced to five days in jail in 1969 for the offense of shoplifting, and had two other charges pending as a result of the drug investigations.

Morris specifically was charged with selling marijuana to Mrs. Carolyn Cox whom he knew as a swinging, joint smoking high school teenager. In reality she was a young housewife with the look of a schoolgirl

New Educational Concept At CJHS

BY SAM ALLRED

Canyon Junior High School is going through more than a physical reconditioning — academic methods are becoming as modern as tomorrow's space shot.

David Corley, principal, Friday outlined details of a new program called "team teaching" which is designed not only to improve the caliber of teaching but give the individual student a chance for self regulation and improvement.

"With team teaching you might have 110 students in one class supervised by four or five teachers," Corley said. "While one teacher lectures on some area she has specialized in the others are there to give help as it is needed."

Corley said "teams" of from four to six teachers are gathered from each of the basic areas of study: Math, history, English and science.

"The team decides which teacher will present the subject, based on whether someone has made a specialized study of some area of it," he said. "This means the students are continually receiving a high caliber of instruction in each field."

The junior high class period is broken into "modules" of 15 minutes, and a class may be anywhere from 15 minutes to 75 minutes long.

"We use the large class for motivational purposes as well as for films and tests," Corley said. "We can use it for anything where a large group can receive the same degree of instruction as a small class."

The school auditorium, completed this week, is designed to have partitions mounted on rollers, meaning student time will not be lost changing from a large group to four smaller ones for individual concentration.

Corley said the team teaching method evolved out of two years' study at the school and is being carefully monitored.

"We have received real good response from the teachers," he said. "We have some problem areas we knew we would have and we plan to evaluate the program at the end of each six weeks."

A second new development at the school is the absence of the old "study hall."

"We now have independent study time," Corley said. "If the class is 75 minutes long and the student

RANDY ROBSON

Robson Is Decorated

Randy Robson, starting defensive tackle on the 1969 West Texas State University football team, has received the Bronze Star for valor for action in Viet Nam.

Robson, a specialist fourth class in the United States Army, was presented his award Sept. 8 for his action during a battle with the Viet Cong Aug. 22nd.

While on a patrol 90 miles SE of Saigon, Robson's company engaged the enemy. A soldier near Robson was

Ballots To Go Out For Chamber Board

Ballots for election of four new board members will go out this month to members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The nominating committee is naming eight persons to the ballot with four to be elected, according to a committee report Monday night at a regular meeting of the Chamber board.

Four board members retiring this year include Dick Dawdy, Dean, House, Bernard Wareren and Don Vars.

The Chamber board Monday night discussed transportation problems. A questionnaire is being submitted to Canyon merchants to help the Chamber learn about any frieght difficulties that may be being encountered here.

Chamber Manager Roland Black said suggestions will be submitted to a traffic consultant with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He said the consultant will try to assist in solv-

Rites Held For Victim Of Fire

Last rites for Bryant Albert Stroup, 67 years old, fire victim, were held Monday morning in LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Officiating was Rev. Bill Foil, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery.

Mr. Stroup died in the fire which gutted his home at 408 Twenty-Second Street Friday night. A coroner's verdict was death by suffocation.

Fire Captain Joe Rice said the fire apparently started in a stuffed chair in the living room of the small apartment. He said it may have been caused by a cigarette. The apartment was gutted.

Mr. Stroup's body was found in the bathroom.

Survivors include four sons, three daughters, and 18 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Speaker Borger's Relates Story

BY CAROL CRAIN

Community improvement which took three years to complete won Borger All-America City acclaim, Mrs. Francis Ferguson told members of the Women's Division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ferguson, president of the Women's Division of the Borger Chamber, spoke at a dinner meeting at Hunsley Hills Club.

First, a fifty man planning committee began to rejuvenate downtown main street in a project called "Operation Progress". The project which started in 1965 ended with the opening of the "Magic Plains Shopping Park" on August 5, 1967.

"But this was only the beginning," Mrs. Ferguson stated, "With the main street torn up, businessmen began to clean up their back entrances, painting them so that each could be identified from the back."

In 1967, during the "Operation Progress" campaign, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce gave Borger their "Operation Sparkle" award.

With downtown beautified, the community began to work on other areas of Borger. The Women's Chamber, led by Mrs. Lou Cooley, worked to get more members in their organization. The women started an Arts and Crafts Festival that is now in its third year. Addresses of "shotgun" houses were written down, the owners

Boy Is Shot In Accident

Dwayne Jackson, 17 years old, Mescalero Park, suffered an accidental gunshot wound in the right side Tuesday at his home.

Sheriff's Deputy Al Smithers said the youth had been hunting with a .22 caliber bolt action rifle the previous afternoon and was putting the gun away in a closet when it accidentally discharged.

The boy was rushed to Northwest Texas Hospital where he underwent surgery immediately. His condition was listed as critical Wednesday morning.

Dwayne is a senior at Canyon High School.

Teacher Honored By CCTA

The Canyon Classroom Teachers named its 1970-71 scholarship the Ocoee Holt Future Teacher Scholarship in honor of Mrs. Holt's being selected as one of the "Outstanding Educators in America."

The announcement came Tuesday night at the annual CCTA banquet at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Donna Wilson, president of the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association, presented Mrs. Holt the letter designating that "In recognition of your great honor in being named an Outstanding Educator of America. . . and in grateful appreciation for your tremendous helpfulness to us, wherever and whenever we have needed you, the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association has this day named its 1970-71 scholarship the Ocoee Holt Future Teacher Scholarship.

This scholarship is to be awarded to an outstanding member of the Shirley Chapter of Future Teachers of America selected by the Teacher Education and Professional Standards Committee and the chapter's faculty advisors.

Mrs. Holt, director of elementary instruction for the Canyon Schools, was nominated to appear in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Educators of America by superintendent of Canyon Public

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Spiro Agnew will be in Amarillo next Monday night and so will I.

I received my ticket this week from Bob Watson and I am looking forward to hearing and maybe even meeting the vice president in person.

I can say that I envy Tommy Thompson, editor of The Amarillo Globe his tennis date with Agnew. I can't play tennis but I would enjoy a chat with a man whom I admire above all other Americans on the public scene today.

Agnew has a knack for saying what most of us are thinking. He calls a spade a spade and then is able to defend his position with a rhetoric that is almost unanswerable.

He has the ability to pick the most vulnerable spot of his opponent and then crack down. This is the reason he is so hated by those who hate him and so much admired by those who admire him.

Agenw was an armored officer in General George Patton's Third Army during World War II.

This could be a part of the key to his toughness.

The veep's appearance here is bound to help all Republican candidates, on down to the county level. I think it will be of special benefit to Oofie Abraham in his race against Max Sherman and maybe even Carroll Brown in his Republican bid for district judge.

Why?

If he runs true to form, the vice president will say some things in plain English and the people of Potter and Randall Counties and the Panhandle are going to like what they hear.

They are conservative anyway and this will start them to thinking Republican here less than a month before election. It might just cause a bunch of them to go to the polls and vote Republican.

If it does, then it will even help Rhett Plank in his bid for district attorney. But the man who needs most help is George Bush, the man Agnew is coming down here to help in the first place.

I am always amazed at the political significance given to Canyon. Both Bush and Lloyd Bentsen are very interested in Canyon.

I had a visit recently from Bentsen and Bush called last week and then wrote a letter personally asking for the support of the community.

He said he realizes that the Panhandle is a key area in his race. Frankly, I haven't made up my mind whom I will support in the Senate race.

Governor Preston Smith deserves the vote of Canyon and Amarillo this year if for no other reason than he gave West Texas State University a separate board of regents, something John Connally promised to do and then reneged on. This opened the way for WTSU to take its place among the great universities of Texas.

Governor Smith also gave months of thought to the board of regents for WT. I think he came up with one of the best balanced in the state. We are already feeling the effect of the board's leadership.

The Democrats are pulling off a rival meeting in Borger the same night Agnew visits Amarillo.

They're going to have Congressman Jim Wright as keynote speaker. They've asked Lyndon Johnson and if he comes they might steal some of the veep's thunder but if only Wright shows up it will be like trying to answer artillery with a bean shooter.

Canyon's Eagles are looking tougher every game. They played like champions against the Lubbock Westerners Friday night.

Coach Dunny Goode told his boys that if they didn't fumble, allow a pass interception or a blocked kick they would win. They didn't make these mistakes and they won.

If they continue to play heads up football they're going to be tough to handle in the district.

We'll place a lot of boys on the all-district roster this year and if we win district Kelly Tinsley has a good chance of making all-state.

Several people will be meeting with the city commission Monday night to hear what City Planner Marvin Springer has to say about I-27 by-pass.

I hope the people of Canyon can get together and have a concensus on the route most to be desired. So far the planning and zoning commission and Randall County Commissioners Court have recommended different routes.

If the people here don't get together on a route the Highway Department probably will put it where they want it and that will be that.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

This birthday-to-doomsday welfare that our people planners seem determined to foist on us — at a price that makes both birth and death something we cannot afford — simply will not work.

Paradise for this world ended in the garden of Eden. All the best legislation in the Universe will not bring it back. Because of man's deliberate disobedience, the Creator decreed that the human race must struggle for its existence. And struggle it has from that day forward.

There has probably never been a time when all men worked. But the greater the number of idlers, the harder the workers have to work. All of man' provisions are the products of some man's toil.

Hunger is the only incentive that can persuade some men to work. And even hunger is not likely to force the criminal to work as long as he is free to steal.

The best incentive yet devised to make men want to work is private enterprise. The majority of healthy men usually enjoy struggling if the rewards are sufficient. And the greatest of all rewards is accomplishment.

The poor are usually convinced that the rich do not have to struggle. But, as a rule, the responsibility of riches demands far greater effort than does the poor man's quest for bread.

It is difficult for many people to understand why others continue to work after it is no longer necessary to provide their desired standard of living.

To be able to "take life easy" is usually the goal of people who have always taken life as easy as possible. They seldom work more than forced to do by sheer necessity. But there are people who have no desire to take life easy; they much prefer to work.

Life's struggle is not rewarding to many people because they are not attempting to accomplish anything. Others are deprived of the joy of the struggle because they are robbed of their just rewards.

The International Union of Operating Engineers in New Jersey went on strike because they were refused $120.74 per day for a 40-hour week. Employers who are compelled to pay such wages will be forced to price themselves out of the market.

There is a limit to employers enduring all the responsibility, and employees getting all the profits. First comes inflation and then unemployment.

Uruguay, previously cited as the ideal welfare state of the earth, is suffering the inevitable end of that kind of regime. Reportedly, only one-third of the people in Uruguay are engaged in any kind of productive work. And they appear to be breaking under the crushing burden of supporting two idlers each.

Terrorists in Uruguay are currently engaging in kidnapping and murder on the national and international levels in an attempt to bring about some changes in their "ideal" welfare state.

Life was never intended to be a storm shelter, where one could simply find a nice safe place to sit down and wait for it to end.

Man was meant to struggle in this world. Peace, joy, and rest are reserved for the next one. The driving force behind the eternal quest for Utopia has always been spiritual dearth.

However determined they may be, men searching for heaven in this world will never find it. But their dedication to the search may prevent their ever looking for it in the place where it can be found.

Janis Joplin, the latest rock-and-roll singer to die of an overdose of drugs, is reported to have said, "When I get scared and worried I tell myself, 'Janis, just have a good time.' So I juice up real good and that's just what I have."

The misguided, unfortunate girl looked for happiness in the wrong place. It is never found in the bottom of a bottle — or on welfare.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Citizen:

I read a story the other day that you may enjoy as I did. An old man was planting some peach trees in his yard--setting them in carefully and with the loving care of one that expected much of them.

A passerby said, "Do you expect to eat peaches from those trees?" Replied the old man, "Probably not, but all my life I've been eating peaches from trees planted by someone else. It's time I did a little planting." That set me to thinking--thinking about our boys. It takes a story sometimes to make us realize how much our world depends upon the future generation. We complain about the youth of today and about the kind of citizens and employees they make. What would one be worth to you who was trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent? One whose honor was to be trusted and who would go out of his way to be helpful to others?

A lot, I am sure.

Since the Boy Scout movement was started millions of boys have tried to live up to that code.

Here in our Llano Estacado Council we have a big job to do. Less than one-third of our boys have an opportunity to become Scouts. Both leaders and resources are needed. Over the past few years, many Scout-minded people have given financial support to the Boy Scouts of America. Your willingness to support the Scouting Program again this year in indeed appreciated. The need this year is still greater, and there are no shortcuts if we are to do a successful job.

Do your planting early. See Scouting grow in our community.

Thank you for your support.

Cary Magness

Students Repair Wagons

BY SAM ALLRED

When a university student applies to Jack Downing for part-time work, he or she is likely to become quite expert on an object that has been practically extinct for 50 years.

Downing, assistant director of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, currently has his young charges working on wagons, of every size, shape and state of disrepair imaginable.

"We have recently received 30 wagons out of a collection of approximately 100," Downing said Tuesday. "The rest we have been going after as we need them."

Although the buggy, surrey, sulky and light spring farm wagon is as organic to the Southwest as saddles and cowboys, the rate at which the wagons have disappeared from the plains is making them very valuable.

"These were collected by an elderly gentleman down in the Victoria area," Downing said. "We were very pleased to get them."

The museum has 16 completely reconditioned wagons now on display and Downing said it was possible to recondition a not-too-damaged vehicle in "about 30 working days."

"The biggest time consuming project is sanding," he said. "We strip off all the paint from the wood and metal. Then we put on from nine to 12 coats of paint and sand about every two or three coats."

Downing said the wagons have to be hand sanded because "many of the wagons were not machine sanded in the first place and most of them are so constructed you could not use a machine."

In addition to hand sanding, the museum replaces leather, reupholsters seats and in some cases, "build new beds or replace wheels."

Downing said they attempt to use the same kind of wood the wagon originally had, and it is not always easy to find.

"Ash and poplar were the two most common woods they used and they are hard to find," he said. "Last year we had to order a bunch of poplar from Fort Worth."

The assistant director had high praise for the "nine or ten" students participating on the project through the university work-study program.

"The students seem to enjoy working on them," he said. "We have had some real good workmen."

The importance of the work is emphasized by the fact that magazines advertise wagons for sale at prices ranging from $2,500 all the way up to $8,000.

"The most important thing is there is just not any more of them in the country," Downing said. "They've now become museum pieces."

It is probably a sign of the times that a student at a western university can only see wagons, which were produced up until 1920, by working in or visiting a museum. Fifty years has definitely changed the face of the Panhandle and South Plains.

AAUW Hears Ferguson On Panhandle Pollution

Paul Ferguson, manager of the Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge Department, spoke about "Pollution in the Panhandle," at the American Association of University Women's meeting Saturday.

During the program Ferguson pointed out the problem that some detergents cause in the sewage disposal system. He also discussed the problems of Buffalo Lake and related them to the Panhandle in general.

Buffalo Lake has a declining water level because of lack of rain, area feedlot drainage, the changing farm practices, and vegetable processing plants.

Ferguson also showed a color film entitled "The Gift" about water pollution that he had obtained from the Conservation Education Department. The conservationist passed out litter bags and materials from the U.S. Department of the Interior to each of the 40 members present at the meeting.

A graduated list of detergents with their percentages of harmful phosphates will be distributed at the next AAUW meeting, according to Mrs. Duane Guy, Canyon branch president.

In other business, the club voted to order AAUW cookbooks on casseroles and sell them for $3.50 each. Three members, Mrs. A.K. Goodman, Mrs. W.F. Haggard, and Mrs. Ernest Carlson have recipes printed in the book.

Money from the cookbook project and plaster gift sales will be added to the club's fellowship fund.

Members also voted to buy a book for the city library in memory of Mrs. H.T. Carr, Sr., longtime AAUW member.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Kenneth Laycock, Miss Mattie Sue Howell, Mrs. Ada Crager, Mrs. Joe Carver, and Mrs. Bill Lee.

The next meeting will be held October 31 at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clay Cooper, 418 Thompson Lane.

Mrs. James B. Davis will bring the program entitled "Man, Medicine and Environment."

Co-hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Edward Schmutzer, Mrs. Cristler Crain, Miss Ada V. Clark, and Mrs. Kirk Kite.

errors.

This is the third week for the Eagles to run the new Wishbone T offense and Coach Goode said his boys are improving offensively each week.

Cliff Prichard has made more than 100 yards a game rushing in the past three ball games. "He is a great runner, blocker and is a real competitor," said Coach Goode. "He has an excellent attitude."

Coach Goode praised the three sophomores brought up from the junior varsity. These are Sam Kerbel, Bill Moore and Matt Hansen. "We couldn't have done without them," he said.

Defensively, the Eagles are using the same personnel as before.

Some of the standouts offensively Friday were Kelly Tinsley who got two unassisted tackles, made first contact on six and aided in one. James Boyce got three unassisted, three first contacts and assisted in 10 and Frank Belcher got three unassisted, two first contacts and eleven assists.

War Eagles, awarded for exceptional gridiron achievement, went to eight Eagles for Friday night performance. On the defense Kelly Tinsley received one, John Lewis, two, Van James, one, James Boyce, two John Dodson one, Rick Hales one, Jeff Gunter one and Frank Belcher one.

On the offense War Eagles went to Chuck Wright, one, Mike Podzemny one, Cliff Prichard three, Edwin McBride one, Tinsley one and Darrell Breitling one.

last fall received funds for an interstate route from Amarillo to Lubbock. After extensive survey work, the department has proposed five possible by-pass routes.

One route would follow U.S. 87 through 23rd Street in Canyon. Another would leave U.S. 87 about 3.2 miles north of Canyon, head to the east and curve around the city about one mile from the city limits.

A third would leave U.S. 87 at the same spot, and pass Canyon at the edge of the eastern city limits. A fourth route would by-pass Canyon by way of South Washington.

The only western by-pass proposed would leave U.S. 87 3.2 miles north of the city and curve through the western portion of Canyon.

Panhellenic Members Hear Liston

A Panhellenic workhop was held Monday night in the WTSU Activities Center by Mrs. Mary Lou Liston of Dallas.

The evening's agenda included discussion topics for each of the four WTSU sororities.

Alpha Delta Pi's topic was the compilation and effective use of pre-rush publicity designed to attract prospects to the Greek way of life. The need for and suggestions for compiling a Panhellenic handbook was also discussed.

Chi Omegas discussed Greek activities for the annual Greek Week.

Delta Zeta was responsible for the topic rush activities, tactics, procedures, rules, regulations — the advantages and disadvantages of delayed rush as opposed to early rush.

Zeta Tau Alpha's topic was the collegiate and alum relationships and responsibilities.

Mrs. Liston was available for individual conferences Tuesday.

completes his assignment in one hour, then the rest of the hour can be used for a variety of things."

Included in the variety of things is a trip to the "learning center," which in older days was called a library. But armed with such diversified teaching aides as microprojectors and cassette tape recorders, it is probably a far cry from the old 5,000 volume room where silence was mandatory.

"The independent study time has proven to be a tremendous achievement incentive," Corley said. "teachers are saying that students are turning in homework that never have before."

The principal emphasized the value of allowing the student to help regulate his classes and free time.

"Always before a junior high student's life was regulated by bells," he said. "We hope we are better preparing the student for high school and for college."

Monday will begin the end of the first six week's period and in two weeks evaluation of the program will begin. Until a method of evaluation is designed, initial investigation will consist of teachers' reaction.

Whether the "bugs" can be worked out immediately or not, one thing is obvious. Canyon Jr. High does not intend to fall behind in the race to educate our nation's youngsters.

were contacted and now over 375 unsightly buildings have been removed. The city, with the owner's permission, tore down the buildings and took them off the tax rolls.

School children put in thousands of hours picking up the paper and trash on the vacant lots.

Fortunately for Borger, the Carbon Black plants had already spent several million dollars solving their problem of air pollution.

"Now there is no black smoke in Borger," Mrs. Ferguson stated.

The schools had been integrated for several years, so that this was not an issue in Borger.

Opportunities, Inc., was started for the community's senior citizens. Crafts of all type are taught there and both young and old enjoy the facilities.

Day care centers have been set up and working mothers are only charged according to their means to pay.

The women of the Borger Chamber needed money for their projects and pointed out and campaigned for the advantages of the city sales tax that they now have.

"Even if we hadn't won the All-America City title, Borger would have been a winner," Mrs. Ferguson said.

No federal money was used at any time during the Borger campaign," Mrs. Ferguson stressed in her closing remarks.

In the business meeting of the Canyon Chamber immediately following Mrs. Ferguson's talk, Mrs. Dean Nicholas appointed a nominating committee of Christine McGlasson, Bitsy Downing, Loraine Olson, Shirley Donnell, and Mary Harrison to select four new Chamber Board members.

A city-wide Christmas lighting campaign was discussed and referred to a five-person committee.

Members were encouraged to attend the city commission meeting Monday night at the city hall annex when the Canyon by-pass route is scheduled to be discussed.

The Canyon Chamber will hold its next meeting in November.

Mrs. Holt is on the Board of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of Alpha Chi, Zeta Tau Alpha, and the Pi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

She is currently superintendent of Adult I of the First Baptist Church and is a member of NEA, TSTA, and numerous local, state and national professional organizations.

The banquet program also included Charlie Bell of Hereford who discussed the TSTA salary continuation program and Guyda Webb who was in charge of the entertainment.

Special guests at the banquet were Miss Sue Pegg, WT elementary education major and recipient of last year's CCTA scholarship, members of the school board, the administration, and spouses of the Canyon teachers.

A portion of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum's 5,000-piece general collection of art will be on display in the North and South Galleries for the remainder of this month.

Rolla Shaller, curator of exhibits, said the display would emphasize the different types of artistic media including water colors, oils, pastels, charcoals, pen and inks and enamel on copper.

who had volunteered to work as an undercover agent for the Randall County Sheriff's Department and the Amarillo Police Department.

Morris was charged with having made the sale on Oct. 15, 1969, the day of the peace moratorium in Ellwood Park.

Mrs. Cox was the first witness for the state Monday morning. She testified that Morris made arrangements for the sale at the moratorium and then sold her the stuff that night near a drive-in cafe on the Canyon E-Way.

Mrs. Cox told of hurrying home after making the buy and placing the matchbox containing a substance she thought was marijuana in an envelope and labeling it as evidence.

Amarillo Police Officer Bert Keith told of picking up the envelope a short time later. The matchbox and its contents were introduced into evidence.

Bill Dunn, Amarillo chemist, testified that the contents was marijuana. The state rested its case at 11:40 o'clock Monday morning.

Defense attorney Rhett Plank rested his case immediately after the court reconvened at 1 p.m. Dick Dambold, assistant district attorney, began the arguments for the state.

"I don't think there can be any question about the charge," he said. "I don't think it can be refuted."

Dambold said Plank "might try to introduce what we call rabbit tracks."

"When you don't have the law and you don't have the facts you have to try and establish a smoke screen," he said.

Plank wryly replied that he "appreciated Mr. Dambold anticipating my case."

"Mrs. Cox is very explicit about the time and the place of the sale and the amount of money although the sale was allegedly made about one year ago," Plank said. "She began to get very hazy about the facts she did not have written down on a piece of paper."

Plank told the jury that "it would be very convenient if you and I carried around a little piece of paper of what happened two years ago."

"This is part of the state's failure to establish their case beyond a reasonable doubt," he said.

Plank also told the jury "I am not saying the Amarillo Police Department or the State of Texas is going to deliberately frame someone by hatching this thing up, but it is something for you to consider when you go into the jury room."

The defense attorney said "there is not wide disparity of testimony. . . just a few cracks."

"I think we have driven a wedge in those cracks," he concluded. "If this young man is completely guilty the state's evidence should have been perfect."

Dowlen told the jury that "if you return a verdict of not guilty I submit to you that you are letting a guilty person go free."

The district attorney termed Plank's argument that Mrs. Cox did not know which direction she was traveling when she left the drive in, "much ado about nothing."

"None of these arguments hold any water," Dowlen said. "None of these make any sense."

The jury retired to deliberate at 1:40 p.m. and returned with the guilty verdict at 2:01 p.m.

Arguing for punishment, Dowlen said that he felt the application for probation should be denied.

"The defendant previously had probation and he apparently did not learn his lesson," Dowlen said. "For the space of a year he was completely out of line, whether it be shoplifting, sale of marijuana or what."

Dowlen told Judge Jordan that he would submit that the proper sentence "should be somewhere between 10 and 20 years."

Plank said his defendant "had been crossways with the law in the past but has satisfactorily served his sentences."

Judge Jordan, in rendering his decision, said "this is not an easy case to decide in the sense of punishment."

"The defendant presents a rather complex picture of a man who has been a good workman, had marital problems and has made good probation," he said. "But the testimony indicates he has not reformed. Probation is certainly not indicated under the circumstances."

Plank said he would "look at the record before deciding whether to appeal."

The defense has 10 days to decide whether to appeal the court's decision.

Rural Area Turnout Is Greatest

Rural areas turn out at the polls better than city dwellers, according to Randall County Clerk Leroy Hutton.

Hutton said that in 1968 rural precincts in the Democratic primary ran out of ballots in some cases.

Ralph Switch voted 82 percent of its voting strength in 1966 and 79 percent in 1969. Hutton said there are 106 prospective voters in the precinct but he plans to send out 125 ballots in November.

Fairview community voted 96.4 percent of its strength in 1966 and 91.3 percent in 1968.

Alice Landergin School (Precinct 12) voted only 47.4 percent of its strength in 1966 and mustered only 62.7 percent in 1968.

At Rex Reeves Elementary School in Canyon the vote was only 71.5 percent of those registered in 1968.

Hutton said 178 electronic voting machines will be dispersed over the county on election day to serve prospective voters numbering 21,431.

Gary Cook, assistant dean of student life at West Texas State University, unfolded a plan for students to decorate the campus for Christmas.

He told the board that students will begin this year with outlining the old administration building in Christmas lights. He said the decorations will be expanded to other parts of the campus in future years.

He requested that the Chamber atttempt to persuade Canyon merchants to outline their store fronts in lights in keeping with the program at the university.

Dr. A. J. Luquette received board approval for a plan for a recreation program for Canyon. Dr. Luquette, a member of the university faculty and one of the organizers this year of Kids, Inc., in Canyon, outlined his plan for the board.

He already has done so before Canyon civic clubs and the city commisssion. There is indication that the program may receive financial support from the city an possibly from the community's civic clubs.

Bernard Warren reported that Dr. Charles Smallwood is in College Station in behalf of an animal diagnostic clinic at West Texas State. Dr. Smallwood is head of the WTSU school of agriculture.

Warren said Dr. Smallwood is trying to make arrangements either for a group from Texas A&M University to visit the campus here or for a delegation from here to meet with officials at College Station in behalf of the clinic.

"We hope to know something this week," Black reported.

The board discussed the five proposed I-27 by-pass routes but made no recommendation. Members of the board have asked to be permitted to meet with the Canyon city commission next Monday night when City Planner Marvin Springer of Dallas discusses the matter before that body.

The board has not yet made any recommendation. Black said a recommendation probably will be forthcoming after the Monday night meeting.

Black said Chamber flags and bunting will be displayed along city streets for West Texas State homecoming Oct. 17. He said he will put the decorations up Wednesday of next week.

Buffs Make It Two In A Row With Win

West Texas State University's Buffaloes pushed their football season record above the .500 mark Saturday night by downing an inspired East Carolina team, 42-30.

The Buffaloes took a 28-9 halftime lead and then held on for their lives when the East Carolina offense exploded for 21 points in the second half. The Pirates of coach Mike McGee had scored only two points during their first three outings of the season.

West Texas struck from long range for its scoring Saturday night. Ralph Anderson returned the game's first punt 66 yards for the opening score. Ed Holwig tossed a 31-yard scoring strike to Olan Thompson and Robert Jackson skirted end for 38 yards to provide the Buffs' opening three scores.

As East Carolina stacked its defense against the Buffalo rushing game, Ed Holwig picked the defense with his passing. The 6-4, 215-pound sophomore hit on nine of 14 passes for 141 yards and had no interceptions. Three of his passes were dropped by intended receivers.

Coach Joe Kerbel's Buffaloes journey to DeKalb, Ill., this Saturday to play the Northern Illinois University Huskies. Northern Illinois has a 1-3 season record, while the Buffaloes are 2-1.

The Huskies have fallen to powerful San Diego State, University of Montana and Miami of Ohio. They ripped Xavier, 18-0.

Halfback Ralph "Rocky" Thompson picked up 87 yards Saturday night against East Carolina to bring his three game season rushing total to 366 yards. He tallied one touchdown to up his total to six of the year.

Holwig's good passing night upped his season totals to 46 attempted, 25 completed, 379 yards gained and three touchdowns. He has suffered three interceptions.

Daryl Wynn leads the Buffalo pass receivers with nine caught for 147 yards. Flanker Robert Jackson, who had four receptions Saturday night, has seven for 158 yards and one score.

Sophomore John Grigsby punted for a 40.1-yard average Saturday to increase his season's mark to 39.2.

Christian Soldier Is Talk Topic

Lieutenant Colonel John O. Childs, professor of Military Science at West Texas State University, spoke Tuesday to a department of Bible class on the Christian approach to war.

Colonel Childs pointed out to the class studying Christianity and the Christian approach to contemporary problems that he saw no contradiction in the fact that he is a soldier and a Christian.

Childs cited several scripture references in the Old and New Testaments to support this position. He also pointed out the need for national defense forces since mankind has not created an acceptable alternative to war.

He said the Christian approach to war is the need for soldiers to be Christians. He declared that Christ would help a soldier overcome the fear of death and would provide guidance and solutions to Christian leaders in solving the moral dilemmas that occur in a battle.

Colonel Childs concluded his remarks by pointing out that "war is too horrible to be in the hands of other than Christian leaders."

A discussion was held following the talk by Colonel Childs.

Amarillo Man Gets WT Service Award

R. E. (Bob) Crudgington of Amarillo was presented the second annual West Texan Award by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at West Texas State University Saturday night.

The award was initiated last year by the social fraternity to honor a person who has contributed highly to the university but is not closely associated with the institution.

A wooden plaque was given Crudgington by Truett Brannon of Panhandle, president of Lambda Chi Alpha, during halftime ceremonies of the West Texas-East Carolina football game.

The first recipient of the West Texan Award was Warren Hasse of Pampa, owner of radio station KPDN and voice of the West Texas State football network.

Crudgington, 71, retired Amarillo automobile dealer and now engaged in handling mutual funds, was cited for his longtime participation in the West Texas Activities Association.

The association was organized about 25 years ago by Crudgington and Clarence Thompson of Canyon to subsidize activities of the university for which state appropriated monies could not be used, Crudgington has served as the association's only president.

West Texas Activities has raised and contributed thousands of dollars through the years to assist the university's athletic programs, band, choir and faculty recruitment, among other things.

"Bob has given untold amounts of time, energy and his personal money in developing the association," Thompson said. "He had the idea to form this association and has been a very fine president."

Crudgington attended West Texas State, then West Texas Normal College, for two years and was captain of the 1917 and 1918 football teams. He also played the cornet in the first bands at the school.

His fondness for music carried into later life. He is a past president of the Amarillo Symphony Association and recently was named to the board of the Friends of Fine Arts at West Texas State.

Buffs Seek Third Win, Travel To DeKalb, Ill.

West Texas State University's Buffaloes leave Friday to travel to DeKalb, Ill., for their Saturday night game against the Northern Illinois University Huskies.

The Buffalo football team will travel by Trans World Airlines to Chicago and bus into DeKalb, an hour's drive away. The Buffs will return by the same route Sunday morning.

In the Huskies, the Buffs will be meeting a victory-hungry group of players. Once this season, in four games, the Huskies have salvaged a victory.

Powerful San Diego State handed Northern Illinois a 35-3 setback in the season opener. Montana, which had a 10-1 record last fall, ripped the Huskies, 30-6, in the second game.

Coach Don Urich's Huskies blanked Xavier, 18-0, in their third game to set up last week's battle against Miami of Ohio. Urich played so well himself at Miami he was named to the school's football hall of fame.

Miami, which is now unbeaten in three games, ripped Northern 48-0.

The three losses suffered by the Huskies all came at the hands of teams which have still failed to be beaten this fall. Both Monana and Miami are 3-0 and San Diego State has a 4-0 record.

Leading the Northern Illinois team is All-American candidate John LaLonde. The 5-9, 203-pound fullback rushed for 891 yards his sophomore season and added 824 last year.

In two years he has lost only 36 yards. He was named to the honorable mention All-American team last fall.

Ulrich, who is in his second year as head coach of the Huskies, returned 22 lettermen from last year's club.

Coach Joe Kerbel's Buffaloes will be after their third victory of the season, against one setback. They opened the season with a 33-28 loss to Lamar Tech and then took a 43-0 win over Wichita State and last week beat East Carolina, 42-30.

The Buffaloes return home the following week to host North Texas State University in a homecoming battle at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 17. North Texas will be the second Missouri Valley opponent the Buffs have faced since being voted into the conference this past summer.

Earlier, the Buffaloes had beaten Wichita State. West Texas is not, however, competing for the MVC title this season.

News Brief

A bazaar set on WT Homecoming dates, and a food leadership meeting were topics of discussion of the Home Demonstration Council when it met in regular session last week.

Lawrance To Lead Fashion Seminar

April Lawrance will conduct a fashion seminar from 9:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. in the WTSU Activities Center.

Mrs. Lawrance modeled in New York for several years as well as some five years at points throughout continental Europe. She has also worked with the John Roberts School of Modeling in Washington D.C.

The seminar will include sessions on posture, walking, standing, sitting, coats, gloves, wardrobe planning, hairstyles and wig care, and make-up.

"One of the basic rules for posture is to pull up as high as you can and try to touch the ceiling with the top of your head," the model pointed out.

"Proper posture always adds to the appearance of an outfit and makes any girl look more attractive," she stated.

"A girl's walk can show how she feels about herself on the inside," Mrs. Lawrance said, "her walk mirrors her poise, or her lack of it."

The girls who attend the sessions will be taught the T position for standing and the New York model will also discuss "locked knees and elbows."

The proper and most basic hand and feet positions will be taught in order for coeds to add ease and grace to their present habits.

Mrs. Lawrance will have one session on the ideal wardrobe. She will also point out a complete list of "no nos" for each session.

Mrs. Lawrance is available to hold fashion seminars on modeling sessions for community or school groups. These may be scheduled by calling 355-3811.

A plaque was presented the popular sportscaster by Dr. Fred Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The presentation was made during halftime activities of the West Texas State-East Carolina football game at Buffalo Stadium.

Risenhoover, who joined KGNC in 1957 after teaching and coaching at Childress for seven years, has resigned effective next Friday to become sports director of television station KDFW in Dallas.

He did the play-by-play of West Texas State basketball and Amarillo Giants baseball games and teamed with Warren Hasse to do Buffalo football games.

Risenhoover received bachelor and master degrees from the University of Texas, where he was a member of the Longhorns' 1950 national championship baseball team.

Dr. James P. Cornette, West Texas State president, also cited Risenhoover for his contributions to the university's athletic and academic programs.

Nothing New On Shooting

There were no new clues this week in the shotgun shooting which took the lives of three people Friday of last week in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The dead were Ray Cecil Sims, about 42, 4621 Lipscomb, Amarillo; his wife, Mrs. Ellamae Woods "Jackie" Sims, about 40, of 5111 Bonham, Amarillo; and Mrs. Dorothy Nell Plyler Quinn, 31, Clovis, N. Mex.

Mrs. Sims had just been elected president of the state Licensed Vocational Nurses Association which had been in convention in Amarillo.

The LVNs were on a picnic in the park. The shooting took place near the Panhandle Heritage Foundation Amphitheatre.

Officers said Sims shot his wife, Mrs. Quinn and then turned the gun on himself.

Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson returned a verdict of double murder and suicide.

Officers said Sims and his wife had been estranged.

Witnesses told officers Sims approached Mrs. Sims with the shotgun under his coat. Mrs. Sims walked up to him and said something. Sims shot her and then shot Mrs. Quinn.

One witness said Sims and Mrs. Quinn had been holding hands just prior to the shooting.

Funeral services for the Sims couple were held in Amarillo. Last rites for Mrs. Quinn were held in Clovis.

Two Enter Guilty Pleas

Two men entered guilty pleas to burglary charges in 47th District Court Tuesday.

Lonnie Dean Garner, 29 years old, Amarillo, was given a sentence of 12 years in state prison. He was sentenced by Judge E. E. "Gene" Jordan.

Joachim Olaf Maiwald, 21, Amarillo, was given six years probation.

Court officials said Garner had had two prior convictions.
